DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because Prior Art should be included in Fig. 1. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: "on the one hand," in the present application, such as in lines 19-20 on page 2; line 31 on page 2; line 27 on page 11; should read "on one hand".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites "...each of said assemblies having at least one wavelength and including the packets having a carrier wavelength equal to a wavelength of said assembly, each of said packets being included in one of said assemblies, ..." (page 20, claim 1, lines 9-11). It's not clear how packets are included in the assemblies.

Claim 4 recites the limitation "said number b ..." in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "said number k ..." in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art fig. 1 of present application and in view of Stein (U.S. Patent US 5,365,358).

Regard claim 1, the prior art fig. 1 of present application teaches a packet router for optical transmission networks, the router including input ports (fig. 1, E1-E6) for receiving packets and for transmitting them in optical form with carrier wavelengths in corresponding relationship to the input ports, the router further including an input system (fig. 1, R) for applying time-delays to the packets and broadcasting them to spatial selector systems (fig. 1, SRs, note that there are a plurality of spatial selectors SRs) for receiving the packets and transmitting them to spectral selector systems (fig. 1, SLs, note that there are a plurality of spectral selectors SLs), all of the systems making selections from the packets on command, the spectral selector systems (fig. 1, SL) making the selections in accordance with predetermined spectral assemblies, each of the assemblies having at least one wavelength and including the packets having a carrier wavelength equal to a wavelength of the assembly, each of said packets being included in one of the assemblies, and the router transmitting at its output packets obtained from the selections (as discussed in present specification in lines 25-35, on page 7). The prior art fig. 1 of present application differs from the claimed invention in that the prior art fig. 1 does not teach dividing the packets into a plurality of groups. However, Stein teaches dividing input wavelengths (for example signals e1 through ee) for an optical switch equipment into plurality of groups (fig. 5, input optical channels of e1 to ee). Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time when the invention was made to divide the input wavelengths of prior art fig. 1 into plurality of groups as it is taught by Stein in order to rout and switch optical signals of different groups of wavelengths to different destinations.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
